MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director of Central Intelligence
FROM: Director of Central Intelligence
SUBJECT: Judgments and Policies

Along the lines we discussed very briefly this morning, I would like to select some topics that are crucial to the judgments and policies that will be required in the next two years, then get the best work on them, putting together a small group of the best people we can identify. Here's a starting list:

1. How do the Soviets now see the struggle? Where do they think they stand? What do they think they can accomplish? I would think this would focus on three principal areas -- the strategic arms contest, the regional conflict, the economic and political contest.

2. The Third World struggle and military versus our economic and technological assets. This was crystallized in memos from you,

3. The political contest along the lines suggested in the Suzanne Massie speech at the Smithsonian, my memo on our discussion with her, Brzezinski's memo on Poland and the Soviet Union.
